Senator H. E. Campbell returned Friday afternoon from Washington, D. C., where he had been relative to the sheep grazing industry of the state.

Billy Pitts, the Ash Fork cattleman, accompanied by his son Earl, was in Flagstaff Saturday. Earl merely came along to show his father around.

Robert Mitchell, the mining man heretofore connected with the Navajo Copper Co., and Mrs. Mitchell, will move to Phoenix this week to spend the winter.

C. M. Dyer and wife of Tucker's ranch near St. Johns, arrived in Flagstaff Monday. Mrs. Dyer will remain during the winter while Mr. Dyer returned to his work on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brownell are new residents of Flagstaff, having arrived here last week from Phoenix. Mr. Brownell is the new compounder of medicines at the Kahl Drug Co.

Owing to the illness of Mayor Slipher, the council meeting which was to have been held Monday night was postponed until such time as the mayor will be able to be present.

Forest Supervisor Marsh and Examiner L. R. Lessel left Monday for a four or five days trip to Prescott and Camp Verde on business connected with their department.

C. D. Cole and son, Frank, who for the past year have been working for the Greenlaw Lumber Co. at Cliffs, left this week for Albuquerque, where they will stay during the next few months.

Mrs. J. P. Kerley and children, who have been spending a part of the summer with relatives in Milwaukee, returned the latter part of last week and left later for their home at Tuba City.

Earl Albright, a young cattleman from the Ash Fork district who does not belie his name, was in Flagstaff Saturday. He hasn't as many friends here as he ought to have merely because he does not come oftener.

Jack Smith and J. H. Pendley were in Flagstaff the first of the week from Oak Creek. Mr. Smith advises that his new ranch house is nearly completed and that he will soon be able to go to housekeeping in style.

Frank Chadek, the young man who has seen business grow and prosper at Parks, was in Flagstaff Monday. John Morgan was in Flagstaff Monday from the wilds of the Williams country.

The Ideal hospital is no more for the need of it has passed. But the Ideal hotel takes its place. Tuesday and Wednesday the building was fumigated and everything put in readiness for a resumption of its old business.

Report was received this week that Assessor J. D. Dunn is dangerously ill at Phoenix where he went last week by auto. He was taken sick a short time after reaching there, with influenza and was taken immediately to a hospital.

"Rear Admiral" Jules Aubineau left his ship over at San Diego and came home on a furlough, but believes he will soon get a permanent shore leave. He has been visiting some of his old haunts around Kingman this week.

Pedro Matao, a Spaniard employed at the Arizona Lumber & Timber Co., suffered a severe injury last Saturday when a heavy timber slipped and caught his foot. He was treated at the Milton hospital and is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lindblom of north Leroux street are receiving congratulation over the birth of a fine baby boy, born Sunday night. The young man weighed eight and a half pounds on his arrival in Flagstaff and has been named Walter, Jr. Mother and baby are getting along nicely.

W. D. Berry, the great large man who peddles groceries to merchants and talks democratic politics all night, was in Flagstaff the first of the week. To hear him talk one would be convinced that he had gone plumb democratic.

L. C. Riley left Wednesday for a wee's trip to Colorado.

Tom Ramage, the young man with a soprano voice who habitually mops up the tracks with the short-run train between here and Winslow, was missing a couple days this week owing to a special call for his over-head service on a high-brow train towing main-guys across the division. Walter Martin has been whispering instructions to "students" during Tom's dressed-up excursion in blue clothes.

Sergeant Joe Doyle arrived in Flagstaff this week from Camp Stanley, San Antonio, Texas, and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Fred W. Smith. Sergeant Doyle was discharged as a first sergeant and was attending officers training school when the war ended and put an end to his hopes for a commission. He intends to remain here until after the holidays and then expects to go to Colorado.

The local banks advise there are too many delinquent payments due on Fourth Liberty Loan subscriptions. The second payment of ten per cent of the subscription was due November 21st, and many subscribers have not yet made their payments. If the payments are not kept up, previous payments are forfeited by the subscriber. The banks have a great amount of this work to look after and they will appreciate your prompt payment.

The big "Victory Sale" will be continued for a short time at the New York store. Ladies' Coats, Silk Waists and Dresses of all kinds will be greatly cut in price. For best values try the New York store.

NORMAL NOTES

MAY CALHOUN

Miss Naomi Dickerson has left the Normal to accompany her father to Los Angeles.

Miss Irene Glen from Pearce has enrolled here in school and is staying in Morton hall.

Mr. Clyde Chambliss from Clarkdale has been visiting Miss Shirley Ingledew of Bury hall.

Miss Harriet Buckbee has been visiting with her father, who stopped over last week end on his way from Los Angeles.

A new style of hair dressing is quite conspicuous as one strolls about the various dormitories. They lay everything on the flu.

The Misses Pearl Downing and Dorothy Walpole were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson last Sunday evening.

Miss Florence Smith expects a visit from her mother and sister this week end. Miss Smith may accompany them to the coast.

Mr. Proctor of Williams passed through Flagstaff on his way home. He is a friend of Miss Marie Miller although she missed seeing him at the station.

The Bury hall girls have worked hard and certainly deserve all the commendation given them in the Red Cross rooms. They cleared over $200 for their war pledge.

Mr. Veber, formerly of Winslow, who is visiting Lieut. and Mrs. Cornelius, has just been discharged from the flying school at Americus, Georgia, and is now on his way to his home in San Bernardino.

There was an informal dance at the Normal Friday evening. Cocoa and sandwiches were served and every one had a very enjoyable time. The dance was given by "The Merry-go-round Dancing club."

Mr. Cas was expected last Tuesday but did not arrive so we are still wondering if this present semester will be continued for a week or three weeks after the Christmas vacation. It was reported that the two members of the Board met any way.

The picture "My Four Years in Germany" proved to be a great drawing card for the Normal school was well represented. Over three-fourths of the students attended. The picture brings the war closer home and makes us realize the things we have escaped.

Lieut. G. E. Cornelius has received his honorable discharge from the army and will be back at school this week to stay. The students gladly welcome his return and look forward to as pleasant a semester as the past one has been, save that we hope to be free from any of the prevailing epidemics.

The government is to provide food, shelter, clothing, transportation and training to all men who have served in our army or navy and who have not really finished their education. This is the chance for all the boys to take time by the forelock and grasp this opportunity to make good in the vocational world.

It seems rather natural to have Franklin Walker strolling about the campus. Franklin is waiting for school to open at Tucson and decided to spend the holidays at home. It seems that the university is going to overlook the school work already done and the entire year's work will be done over after the New Year opening.

Mr. R. Thane Cook received a communication from Washington, D. C., offering him the position of psychological expert-vocational adviser for all discharged soldiers who have recovered from their wounds and are seeking some means of livelihood. His work is to be in Nevada, Arizona and California, these states comprising the twelfth district in this work, provided for under the Smith-Seers act.

New Sheriff Makes Appointments.

The people generally wish to know as far in advance as possible just who is going to have the privilege of arresting them during the next two years, aside from Sheriff Harrington. The first two appointments announced by Sheriff Harrington are for undersheriff Wm. Hicklin, office deputy John Sheehan. While there will be more of them, their names are not ready to be announced yet.

At least an inch and a half of rain fell in Cochise county during the recent storm. It the mountains there was a slight snowfall. This means thousands of dollars to stockmen, who suffered heavy losses in the drought of last summer.
